to some constraints, the commissioning of the project have so far been delayed by six years; if so, what are these projects and the reasons for their delay?

THE MINISTER OF STATE IN THE MINISTRY OF WATER RE. SOURCES (SHRIMATI KRISHNA SAHI): (a) and (b) The main reasons for delay include financial cons-trants, cost escalation, inadequate in-vestigations at the project formulation stage, difficulties in land acquisition and non-availability of forest land and building materials at times. These have been resulting in overall cost escalation of projects.

(c) The State Governments have been advised to priorities the projects for optimal allocation of available resources and lay stress on completion of ongoing projects.

(d) The commissioning of Sindh Phase-I and Rangwan HLC have been delayed by about six years due to financial constraints, non-transfer of forest land to the Irrigation Department, as also change in the scope of the project.
